

Since the 1970s Critical Realism has been developed as a theoretical framework that opens up new directions within the social sciences and social theory. Against the alternatives of positivism and hermeneutics as well as their current ramifications, Critical Realism offers a combination of ontological realism and constructionist epistemology, a non-reductive naturalism that situates the social within the natural realm, a social theory that emphasises the importance of social structures and human agency without neglecting the role of culture, and finally an ethics that is both emancipatory and close to everyday concerns.

The goal of the conference is to introduce this primarily Anglo-Saxon approach to German speaking social scientists, set it into communication with local perspectives, and, in doing so, initiate a dialogue between different traditions of critical thinking.

KRITISCHE SOZIOLOGIE MEETS CRITICAL REALISM

A Dialogue between Social Research,
Social Theory and Philosophy of Science

LOCATION

Rosensäle, großer Saal
Fürstengraben 27
07743 Jena
Germany

Conference in Jena, Germany,
February 1st to 3rd 2013

Organised by the DFG-Research Group
"Postwachstumsgesellschaften"
Friedrich-Schiller-University Jena

Please register at kolleg-postwachstum@uni-jena.de

www.kolleg-postwachstum.de

1

FEB

17⁰⁰ - 18⁰⁰ INTRODUCTION

PROMOTING CRITICAL REALISM IN THE GERMAN SPEAKING ACADEMIA – BASIC INTERVENTIONS, DEVELOPMENTS AND THE IDEA OF THE CONFERENCE

Urs Lindner (Zurich), Dimitri Mader (Jena) and Hans Pühretmayer (Vienna)

18⁰⁰ - 19³⁰ DIALOGUE

SOCIAL MORPHOGENESIS AND ACCELERATION

Margaret S. Archer (Lausanne): Why Realism needs Reflexivity; Hartmut Rosa (Jena): The Speed of Social Change and the Forms of Human Reflexivity. A Three-Stage-Model

2

FEB

09³⁰ - 11⁰⁰ DIALOGUE

PHILOSOPHY OF SCIENCE AND ECOLOGICAL ECONOMICS

Clive Spash (Vienna): New Foundations for Ecological Economics; Barbara Muraca (Jena): Whitehead's Philosophy as a Foundation for Ecological Economics?

11⁰⁰ - 11³⁰ COFFEE BREAK11³⁰ - 13⁰⁰ DIALOGUE

SOCIAL ONTOLOGY, GENDER AND INTERSECTIONALITY

Isabella Crespi (Macerata): Contributions of the Morphogenetic Approach to the Perspective of Intersectionality; Ina Kerner (Berlin): Differences and Power. A Foucauldian Perspective on Intersectionality

13⁰⁰ - 14⁰⁰ LUNCH

2

FEB

14³⁰ - 17⁰⁰ INDIVIDUAL PRESENTATIONS

Hartwig Schuck (Berlin): Power and Domination. A Realist View; Heiner Koch (Tübingen): Intentionality and the Social Ontology of Domination; Georg Gangl (Leiden): Critical Realism and Historical Theory; Elmar Flatschart (Vienna): Dialectical Traditions and Critical Realism; David Strecker (Jena): Reflexive Habitus. Making Sense of an Oxymoron

17⁰⁰ - 17⁰⁰ COFFEE BREAK17³⁰ - 19⁰⁰ DIALOGUE

SOCIAL SCIENCE, ETHICS AND CRITIQUE

Andrew Sayer (Lancaster): Normativity and the Importance of Naturalism; Robin Celikates (Amsterdam): Immanent Critique and the Normative Foundations of Critical Theory

3

FEB

09³⁰ - 11⁰⁰ DIALOGUE

CRITICAL REALISM, POLITICAL ECONOMY AND THE CURRENT CRISIS OF CAPITALISM

Steve Fleetwood (Lancaster): Ontology and the Current Crisis; Frieder Otto Wolf (Berlin): How can Marx's Critique of Political Economy and Critical Realism help us to understand the Present Crisis?

11⁰⁰ - 11⁰⁰ COFFEE BREAK11³⁰ - 13⁰⁰ DIALOGUE

THE EMERGENCE OF SOCIAL STRUCTURES AND AGENCIES

Dave Elder-Vass (Loughborough): Critical Realism and the Causal Power of Social Structures; Uwe Schimank (Bremen): How can Social Structures cause Something?